Eustis has won the Florida League of Cities' Florida city spirit award for its Fountain Green downtown sculpture park.

The city partnered with the Lake Community Foundation and seven local art groups to create the portable park, using nontraditional, recyclable materials.

Eustis is one of three Florida cities to win the award, which will be presented to the city during the group's conference Aug. 14. The city will also present a program detailing its sculpture park at the event.
